For those who may not be familiar with the Yolo Fliers Club, or “The Fliers Club” as it is known to its members, it is a private golf and country club with a long and proud history. Founded over a century ago by a group of aviation enthusiasts led by O.W.H. Pratt, the club was intended to be a haven for aerial enthusiasts and their families. By October 1919, the Yolo Fliers Club had its first 100 members. The clubhouse is festooned with historical artifacts, including an antique propeller and photographs of bygone aviators, including a large, signed photograph of famed aviator Amelia Earhart.

One of the best-known features of the club, is the USAF-T-37A Jet Powered Advanced Trainer, known as “Tweety Bird.” The plane is situated as though taking off and placed near the clubhouse and practice putting green. You’ll not want to miss the opportunity to play at this fabulous and historical course.

If you are considering a “stay and play”, check out The Hotel Winters, a 4-star boutique spa hotel located in the heart of nearby Winters only 15 minutes from the Yolo Fliers club. The hotel is only steps from many renowned tasting rooms, farm to fork restaurants and don’t forget a special spa treatment at the ZenTerra spa within the hotel. Or indulge your golf game with a tee time the day before at the exceptional Yocha Dehe Golf Course at the Cache Creek Casino.

We are looking forward to you joining us for an enjoyable round of golf on the beautiful course.

Sincerely,

Georgia Cochran, Captain Yolo Fliers Niners

Kristen Burrup, WNHGA Director-in-Charge
